Big Events Coming to the Library This Fall!

Return of the Library Extravaganza and More!

Summer is winding down, but we have some big events planned to keep you occupied! For starters, the Local Author Book Fair is scheduled to take place on Saturday, September 17th, from 10:30AM to 3:00PM. This is a great opportunity for the public to get to know and support their local authors as well as authors to network among themselves and get a bit of exposure. If you're a local author who would like to attend the event, please call 847-689-0125 or speak to the Reference Librarian. A space and table will be provided to you free of charge, but you will be responsible for bringing your own tablecloth. Light refreshments will be provided for all who attend, so be sure to come down and support your local writers!

The following week we will be hosting the Local Vendors' Fair presented by the Friends of the North Chicago Public Library! The event will take place outside in the library parking lot if weather permits. Cost to participate for vendors is $30 which goes to support the Friends of the North Chicago Public Library and their charitable efforts. There is no cost to attend for shoppers. For further details and to register as a vendor, please call Delores Clark at 630-569-2411.

Our biggest event of the season, however, will be the return of our annual Library Extravaganza on Saturday, October 15th! As usual, patrons who attend will enjoy a live band, free food, games, and prizes! Further details will be announced as we get closer to the date of the event. Be sure to save the date, and don't miss out on all the fun!
